The Late Indian Fight Near Owyhee.

A Ruby City letter dated July 20, gives the following interesting particulars of Capt. Jennings' late fight with the Indians near Owyhee:

The account of the surprise and fight, as narrated by Jennings and his little band, is well worth preserving. They had been out in the mountains and on the Indian hunt for some 30 days, and were about to descend into a canyon, near the head waters of the Owyhee—in fact, a few of the boys had nearly gained the bottom of the canyon—when Jennings espied an Indian on the opposite mountain, and simultaneously with his shouts to alarm, the crack of a hundred rifles, and the infernal war-whoop of the savages, rang upon their ears, and told, briefly but well, that the conflict would be one of life and death, and that nothing but cool and determined resistance would save a single man to tell another tale of horror. The boys were recalled from the canyon, and returned fire as they ascended the mountain. Rejoining their comrades, the Company were informed by Jennings that their animals and provisions were, under the circumstances, essential to their lives, and they must be retained at all hazards. A few of the men were sent in advance with the animals, and were instructed to construct rifle-pits for the fighting men to retreat to. Their duties could be speedily and continuously performed, as the country or mountain was covered with rocks suitable for the purpose.

The Indians, enraged at their failure to lead the party completely into their ambuscade, shouted, in English, after the men, and challenged them to the fight. They rushed down the mountain, crossed the canyon, and ascended to the charge, but were repulsed by a continuous volley from 25 of Henry's 16 shooting rifles. Thus repulse followed charge and charge followed repulse, for nine hours. On several occasions the advance were required to run back and assist to resist the mad and desperate efforts of the red devils to bag their game. The Indians would occupy the rifle-pits as fast as they were vacated. The unerring aim of the cool and experienced band of Anglo-Saxons brought many a warrior down; but, as marvelous as it may seem, they did not lose a man until they had retreated a distance of three miles to a basin where they found water and entrenched for a siege. The Indians pursued them closely and hotly, and continued firing on them during the night, with the apparent object of creating a panic, and inducing an effort to escape.

On the following day, entrenchments were built and rifle-pits erected; the latter being constructed, individually, by the most experienced marksmen and determined men, who preferred to fight on their own hook and prevent the Indians from getting a foothold too near the main body of men. The Indians followed the example of the whites, and erected rifle-pits enough to encircle the little band. Thus the fight continued for two and a half days, during which time many deeds of daring were successfully accomplished. One I will narrate: Seven Indians had walled themselves in with rocks at a very unhealthy and annoying distance from the entrenchments, and had succeeded in wounding a number of men. George Green was ordered to dislodge them. He selected a large stone, and going down upon his belly, he rolled it slowly ahead of him until he gained a favorable position; then, watching for desired opportunities, he sent the leaden messengers of death crashing through each Indian's brain, until the rifle-pit became a silent, though temporary sepulchre for the seven savages. Other gallant feats were performed worthy to be recorded, but which I have neither time nor opportunity to describe.

Jennings and his party fought for forty-eight hours without tasting food; the excitement, the boys say, was so great that they did not even think of eating, nor experience feelings of hunger. On the night of the 4th firing partially ceased, but more than 100 signal fires flashed on the surrounding hills, calling for reinforcements. Jennings knew a desperate hour was coming, and requested his men to exchange opportunities and get what little rest they could. Escape, he told them seemed impossible, and to attempt to retreat would be sure and sudden death; their only chance for escape was to hold their position until relief could reach them. Two brave boys, Picket and ——, proposed to crawl past the Indians, and try to reach the settlements. The sequel tells how well they succeeded; but their sufferings and the dangers which they experienced can better be imagined than described.

From the beginning of the fight up to the time the Indians beat a hasty retreat, the Jennings' party lost but one man; but almost every man was shot through the clothing, and many of them were wounded. They had 16 horses killed, and captured 15. Almost every stone in their rifle-pits bore bullet marks. A bold and reckless chief was shot, and his horse ran into the Jennings camp. Over 40 Indians were killed and many of them wounded.

Steam Communication with China—Report by the Senate Committee.

The Senate Committee on Postoffices and Postroads recently made, through Mr. Conness, the following report, accompanying a joint resolution authorising the Postmaster-General to modify the contract so as to leave out the requirements to make the Sandwich Islands point in the route of the steamship line:

The Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, to whom was referred Senate joint resolution No. 98, to amend an "Act to authorize the establishment of ocean mail steamship service between the United States and China," approved February 17, 1865; have had the same under consideration and beg leave to report as follows:

The distance from San Francisco to Kanagawa (Yokohama) in Japan, by the great circle, or shortest route, is 4,551 miles.

On this route, reaching as far north as the 47th parallel, westerly winds prevail, and are good and strong, the year round; and the greater part of the distance there are strong currents, namely, the Japan currents, resembling our Gulf stream, setting from the coast of Asia toward the northeast, and cold currents, setting toward and down the California coast.

This route is therefore the best from Japan to San Francisco.

The distance from San Francisco to Kanagawa by direct or rhumb line (a line drawn straight across the map) is 210 miles greater than the preceding, or 4,761 miles.

On this route lying wholly between the parallels of San Francisco and Kanagawa, (37 deg. 48 min. and 34 deg. 50 min.) easterly winds prevail, and there are no currents of moment. In the winter the polar limit of the easterly winds moves a little further south, with the sun, and at this season a slight deflection may be best, never south of the latitude of Kanagawa, and adding but 74 miles in all to the distance. This is therefore the shortest route from San Francisco to Japan.

The distance via the Sandwich Islands to Japan is 5,508 miles. The winds are adverse going from Japan to San Francisco, and not more favorable when proceeding in the opposite direction than by the last named route. The current favors a vessel bound to the East Indies, rather than one bound to Japan, and is directly against one coming from Japan and bound to California. This route is 957 miles longer than the great circle track, and 747 further than the rhumb line course.

A steamer like those called for by contract made by the Postoffice Department, running 10 nautical miles an hour, would make the passage from San Francisco to Japan by the direct or thumb line route in 19 days and 20 hours, and return by the great circle route in 18 days and 23 hours. Touching at the Sandwich Islands, the same steamer would be 22 days and 22 hours at sea on the passage to Japan, and about one day in port at Honolulu, making nearly 24 days in all. Returning, the time would be from one to two days longer by reason of the adverse winds and currents.

The stoppage at the Sandwich Islands, therefore, involves a loss of nearly four days on the voyage from California to Japan and China, and nearly six days in the return trip, making a total loss for the round voyage of ten days.

The time thus lost will be gained by British and French lines, subsidized by their respective Governments, and supported by foreign capitalists and merchants hostile to American interests, merchandise and earliest mails, and the control of the great China trade that will instantly follow the completion of the Pacific Railroad.

It will at once give the same rival and hostile interests the important and growing trade of Japan, the control of which naturally belongs to California.

Steamers of the great size (4,000 tons register, equal to 5,000 tons measurement) required for the China trade, cannot enter the harbor of Honolulu.

The trade between Honolulu and Japan and China is trifling, and the China steamers would, therefore, in order to carry freight and passengers between San Francisco and Honolulu, have to leave a sufficient space vacant during the remainder of the voyage of nearly 5,000 miles.

The great object which Congress had in view in authorizing the establishment of ocean-mail steamship service between California and Japan and China, was the development and diversion to the shores of this country of the commerce of the East, now almost wholly controlled by foreign capital. Among the results reasonably expected in time to follow this change in the course of a trade which all European nations have successively sought to grasp, was the transfer from Europe to America of the centre of the exchanges of the world, now paying tribute to London and Paris. At the time of the passage of the bill it was believed that to these main advantages might incidentally, and without sacrificing them, be added those of regular steam communication with the Sandwich Islands; but further information developed by the thorough investigation, since instituted to ascertain the best routes across the Pacific for steamships, a subject upon which but little was then known, has shown that communication with the Sandwich Islands cannot be maintained by a steam line plying between California and Japan and China, without defeating the paramount object for which the line was authorised.

Believing that no incidental advantage, however great, should be permitted to stand in the way of those objects, your committee recommend the passage of the joint resolution.

HERE HE IS—HE'S FOUND!—A short time since the Register swore that there was not a Republican in Humboldt county, California, who now supported the policy of President Johnson. It now seems that the Register has found one such man. It thus reports the discovery:

"Joy to the Butternuts! We've found him! That Johnson man in Humboldt county who voted the Union ticket last Fall has not yet turned up; but we saw one man the other evening on his way down from Idaho, intending to stop at Gold Hill. He was talking with parties in the saloon, and politics was the subject. He grew irate that no one defended Johnson. Said he, "I voted the Republican ticket—voted for Johnson—and I stand by him. What kind of consistency is it—you fellows slingin' peanuts to the President one election, and throwin' off onto him this way before the next? It ain't my style.'"

FORCING AN ACTOR TO TAKE MEDICINE.—Simpson the actor, would never take medicine, and his medical man was often obliged to resort to some strategem to impose a dose upon him. There is a play in which the hero is sentenced, in prison, to drink a cup of poison. Simpson was playing this character one night, and had given directions to have the cup filled with port wine; but what was his horror, when he came to drink it, to find it contained a dose of senna! He could not throw it away, as he had to hold the goblet upside down to show his persecutors he had drained every drop of it. Simpson drank the medicine with the slowness of a poisoned martyr, but he never forgave his medical man, as was proved at his death, for he died without paying his bill.

The Atlantic Cable

The preparations that have been making during the past year to establish telegraphic communication between Europe and America have awakened but little interest compared with that attending former efforts to accomplish the same great work. Judging from the repeated failures that have occurred in former attempts to lay the great cable, many had been brought to believe that the undertaking never would be successful. This time the attention of the world was not, as on former occasions, absorbed in the scheme, and this time success has crowned the patient efforts of those whose energies have so long been exerted to unite two continents by telegraph. Almost before speculation had began upon the result of this year's operations, the work is complete. Dispatches assure us that the cable is in perfect order, and that messages have been transmitted over it. Whether it will continue to work successfully, or whether after a time it will become dumb, as did the cable of 1858, are yet doubtful questions. But they will not long remain unanswered.

Though "the books" assure us that the first cable worked for two full months and then became silent, there are many skeptical persons who doubt whether it ever worked at all. But granting that it did work long enough to serve for the transmission of nearly 3,000 words, what reason has been assigned for its final failure which will not apply with equal force to the new cable, and render its failure also probable within a short time?

Many very able electricians who have given the subject profound study during the last few years, have come to the conclusion that no cable of so great a length will continue in successful operation long. In experimenting with the old cable the most powerful batteries were found necessary to make the signals perceptible. It is argued that by charging the wires so powerfully with electricity, their molecular structure is broken up, or at least disturbed to such a degree as to finally destroy their conductivity. This has been assigned as a cause of the failure of the cable of 1858. They who hold this theory believe, of course, that all attempts to maintain permanent telegraphic communication across the Atlantic must eventually fail.

But the world hopes for a better result. The interests of commerce and the necessities of an ever-expanding civilization call for the benefits that will follow this stupendous achievement of human science and energy. Its principal influence will be felt "on 'change," and its chief use will be to preserve an equilibrium in the money markets of both continents. But if it should yet prove a failure, it will not be long until the Russian line will be completed so as to bring into telegraphic communication nearly all parts of the civilized globe.

End of the European War.

The war in Europe is at an end. Austria, the ruthless destroyer of other nationalities, lies prostrate at the feet of her conqueror. The cup is returned to her own lips which in other days she compelled Italy and Hungary to drink. There are no longer five Great Powers in Europe.

The successes which have attended the Prussian arms in the conflict with Austria, have had no parallel since the achievements of that greatest of captains, the first Napoleon. The astonishing performances of Prussia by which Austria has just been humbled, have not been equaled since the power of Prussia herself was overthrown by the master of Europe, just sixty years ago. In 1806 Prussia made war on France and in two weeks Napoleon had beaten her armies in the double battle of Jena and Auerstadt and was dictating peace at Berlin. Hardly more than a month after the first hostile shot was fired in the campaign of 1866, the king of Prussia was in Vienna granting what terms he would to the Austrian Empire. The campaign which has just ended so triumphantly for Prussia is only surpassed in modern military history by that which in 1806 ended in her utter humiliation.

Now comes the work of "reconstructing the map of Europe." To the victors, Prussia and Italy, and to the crafty schemer Louis Napoleon, will fall the spoils of war. The Hapsburg dynasty will sink to the comparative insignificance of the petty German principalities, and henceforth there will be but four Great Powers in Europe, unless indeed, Italy is to be advanced by the division of the spoil, to the rank of a Great Power.

Port of Entry in Puget Sound District.—The Port of Entry in Puget Sound was changed some years ago from Port Townsend to Port Angeles. The change was effected through the instrumentality of the late Victor Smith, who was lost about a year ago on the occasion of the wreck of the steamer Brother Jonathan. The matter of removing the Custom House back to Port Townsend has been brought to the attention of Congress, and the House of Representatives has passed a bill restoring it to its original location, from and after the first day of October next.

Composition of the Cable.—The core of the Atlantic cable consists of seven copper wires (six laid around one), weighing 300 pounds per nautical mile, with an insulation of four layers of gutta percha. Around this core are laid ten solid wires, No. 13 guage, drawn from the best iron and galvanized. Each of these ten wires is surrounded by five strands of white Manilla yarn. The weight of the cable complete is 3,100 pounds per mile.

General John A. Logan made a magnificent speech at Cairo, Illinois, on the 28th of June, in which he pronounced in the strongest terms for the proposed amendment to the constitution and endorsed the late legislation of Congress for the protection of the blacks in the South. "My policy" is as odious to the soldiers of the Union as it is acceptable to traitors.

Secretary Fessenden, in December, 1864, estimated the receipts for customs for the fiscal year ending last Saturday, at $70,000,000, whereas they have actually exceeded $70,000,000. His total estimates of revenue were about $156,000,000 below the actual receipts.

The close of the war in Europe will probably cause a considerable rise in greenbacks within a few days. It has been a full week since gold quotations have been received at San Francisco from New York.

The steam tug Rabbons, formerly of the Columbia river, was sold at auction, at San Francisco, on the 24th of July.

B. F. Wade, it is said, will probably be Foster's successor as President of the Senate.

General Grant.—The Copperhead Johnson papers are beginning to open their batteries of vilification upon General Grant. The Chicago Times leads off in the West, and the La Crosse Democrat follows suit in this style:

Ah, but old dog of Galena, your teeth are gone; and as the age of miracles has passed away, you are not likely to grow a new set right away. What an aspiration for a man by whose orders the torch swept the fair and beautiful Shenandoah! Nero, fiddling, dancing and reveling, over the wreck of burning, did not ask another Rome to satiate his passions, but General Grant, who planned deeds, and caused, by his agents, horrors at which the civilized world stood aghast, is dissatisfied because the war did not last a year longer, that he might have used the persuasive agencies of the torch, rope, pillage and murder upon portions of the South still unvisited.

More Complications in Europe.

New York, July 23.—The foreign papers contain the following additional news:

The Moscow Gazette of July 13th, contains the following highly important announcement: Russia does not desire any change in the present state of things. If Austria and Prussia will consider themselves tools of France, Russia can no longer depend on them as heretofore. Venetia, without Rome would constitute no progress for Italy. The submission of Austria to France is not advantageous to the European equilibrium. The supremacy of Prussia in northern Germany narrows that of Russia in the Baltic. Russia wishes for peace, but does not sanction Prussia's efforts to attain supreme power. England's interest may make her seek an alliance with France and Austria on the Eastern question, but the dictatorship of France in Italy and Germany cannot meet her support.

A Lemberg dispatch of July 12th says, the Russian soldiers on furlough have been called in, and every day military trains start from Warsaw to the frontier of Russia and Gallicia.

A Florence telegram of the 13th, says Prussia has informed Italy that an armistice on the basis of the cession of Venetia is inadmissible. Italy in reply announced its resolution to continue the war without relaxation. A Florence paper publishes the conditions for an armistice stipulated by Prussia and Italy. The form or power demands the exclusion of Austria from the Germanic confederation. This journal adds this was admitted by France, who undertook to obtain from the Vienna cabinet the evacuation by Austria of Austrian provinces occupied by Prussia during the armistice. The conditions on the part of Italy were the cession of Venetia and the Italian portion of Lombardy direct from Austria to Italy, without compensation, and an agreement that Austria should not raise the Roman question during the negotiations for peace. It appears that these conditions have been found inadmissible at Vienna, and that Austria is resolved to try the fortunes of war. Venice dispatches say that Austrian forces in Venetia are being withdrawn from before the Italian army, but the fortresses are strongly garrisoned for defense without the support of an army. La France says the attack of the Italians upon Venetia renders Prince Napoleon's mission futile, and it has been abandoned. France is actively arming. The iron-clads are to be sent to Venice.

The Prussians occupied Prague on the 8th, with a garrison of 800 troops.

Austria is making concessions to Hungary. She announces that the conscription is suspended, and calls on Hungarians to volunteer.

Later Foreign News—Austria Humbled! Peace Restored.

Farther Point, July 23.—The steamer Hibernia brings dates to noon of the 16th. Nothing further had transpired about peace negotiations. It is now declared in diplomatic circles at St. Petersburg that Russia will not abandon its neutrality or allow intervention.

—The Moscow Gazette has expressed sympathy with the Italian cause and says Italy must have Rome.

The Prussian headquarters were at Brunn with a second column at Iglau marching rapidly on Vienna. The Prussians overwhelmed the Federal army in a battle at Oschaffenburg in Bavaria, on the 14th, and were marching on Frankfort.

The Federal Diet had removed to Augustenberg.

Consols opened on the 16th at 87⅝@87⅞. Cotton opened at with a decided improvement in demand.

General Cialdini has occupied Vincenza, cutting off the Austrian troops in Venetia from Sarios, and he be dislodged.

The London Times believes the discouragement of the Austrian army by their repeated losses in Bohemia, will deter the Emperor from a final encounter so close to his capital, and trusts that before the Prussians shall be ready for the onset, the interview between the two monarchs will take place, which might better have been held the day after the disaster at Koniggratz.

The Times of the 26th, says whatever forces the Austrian government may have succeeded in gathering around Vienna, it is still doubtful whether it will find itself equal to the task of withstanding the victorious Prussians, who according to all calculations should appear before Vienna to-morrow or the day after. If anything were needed to render the Austrian position hopeless, it was the tidings of the irreparable disaster at Shaffenburg, which must have reached Vienna, preceded by a deputation from the Vienna Municipality, enquiring the Emperor's pleasure in regard to the defence of that city. The Emperor at once removed the people from apprehension by announcing that Vienna should be treated as an open city, and added that he would limit operations to the defence of the line of the Danube, which might bring a Prussian attack on Floberff Village, 2 or 3 miles from the gates of Vienna, where the Austrians have an entrenched camp. Should the Prussians however, resolve to attack Vienna, they would certainly attempt to cross the river at several places, and in case of success, the open city would unavoidably fall into their hands.

Chicago, July 29.—A full report has been received here of the successful laying of the Atlantic Telegraphic cable, with news dated London, July 27th, stating that a treaty of peace had been signed between Austria and Prussia, on the terms of the latter.

Congressional.

Chicago, July 24.—After the House, yesterday, had referred the credentials of the Tennessee members to the Committee of Elections, Mr. Davis called the Committee together and straightway reported the credentials all right. Messrs. Taylor, Maynard and Stokes being present were immediately sworn in and were received with great applause inside and a salute of one hundred guns outside.

Senators Fowler and Patterson and the other Representatives, will probably be admitted to-day.

Both Houses passed a great number of bills yesterday.

The bill for the admission of Nebraska was vetoed in the Senate.

Nothing further is said about adjournment, and the fear of vetoes at too late a moment to act on them will probably induce Congress to complete all its business within a day or two, and then await the action of the President.

Chicago, July 26.—The Tennessee Senators and Representatives are fully admitted.

Congress adjournes Saturday noon.

Matters at Nashville.

Chicago, July 25.—The scenes at Nashville, form a ludicrous picture, which will, however, be no occasion from the grounds taken. It seems that Gov. Brownlow's House scoured the country for absent members of the Legislature and found only two, whom they forcibly dragged into the House to complete the quorum, namely, fifty-six members. A vote was then taken and these two refused to vote or to recognize themselves either as members of the House or in the House. Speaker Heskell (conservative) refuses to certify that the amendment to the Constitution was ratified. A writ of habeas corpus was issued for those under arrest, and going there with a stronger force—a sheriff's posse, than the House had, he discharged them and fined the House Sergeant-at-Arms. The House then took action that itself, even without a quorum, was greater than any Judicial power in the State, and that it had the power to arrest and imprison refractory members. Meanwhile Governor Brownlow's vigor and undaunted power secured the attendance of other members, more than making a quorum, and the resolution was passed yesterday by 44 against 13, expelling six members for refractory conduct, and it also passed a resolution warning Judge Frazier to appear at the bar of the house on the 2d Monday of November to answer to an impeachment. The two members were yesterday granted leave to record their votes on the Constitutional amendment, and if the speaker persists in his refusal to certify the fact of its passage he will be severely dealt with. The question then remains whether Secretary Seward will accept Governor Brownlow's certificate as legal.

Cholera in New York.

New York, July 25.—The cholera has somewhat abated. Only 4 cases were reported yesterday in the city and 6 in Brooklyn. The mortality report for the week ending the 21st shows 1,362 deaths, of which 545 were from summer diseases.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

Rejoicing at the Success of the Atlantic Telegraph.

San Francisco, July 30.—Although as yet no public demonstration has taken place over the completion of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable, everybody congratulates his neighbor and a general jollification is almost inevitable. The following dispatch was received this morning:

Heart's Content, July 28, 1866.—Hon. Stephen J. Field: I arrived here this morning in perfect health. The cable has been successfully laid across the Atlantic ocean. (Signed) C. W. FIELD.

Dr. Dewolf appeared in the police court this morning and stated that his female partner who wears the breeches, would not pay her fine and desired to go to jail.

On the 26th of June, a new paper under the name of the Evening Tribune, made its appearance in San Francisco. It was published daily, Sundays excepted, up to Saturday last, just one month all told. The Tribune was commenced unquestionably with a view of being made the instrument of a clique. It has failed with a brief month's existence.

The Fire and Water Committee of the Board of Supervisors had a public trial this morning of the new engine which recently arrived from the east. It worked perfectly and to the satisfaction of all parties interested. The San Francisco No. 1, as she is called, is one of the first-class Muskacengines, and the largest on this coast. She plays four streams of water; weighs about 6000 pounds and is intended for work in the lower part of the city.

The case of Margaret Denny, charged with attempting the murder of Mrs. DeWolf, wife of the late Capt. DeWolf, of the Brother Jonathan, is under investigation to-day. The testimony thus far has not elicited any new or interesting facts. Both ladies are in court, and the room is crowded with spectators anxious to hear the minutest particulars of the affair.

John Duane, indicted as an accomplice with his brother, Charles P. Duane, for the murder of W. G. Ross, exercised the right of challenging the Grand Jury in the 12th District Court this morning. The indictment was read to him when he pleaded not guilty. His counsel then gave notice of his intention to move for a change of venue on the ground that the prejudice existing in this county against his client would preclude the possibility of his obtaining a fair and impartial trial.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Constitution left her dock for Panama at 11 o'clock this morning with about one hundred passengers and over one million dollars in treasure.

Judge Dwinelle to-day granted Alexis Oulif a divorce from his wife, Maria H. Oulif.

Judge Sawyer also granted Mary A. Pillsbury a divorce from her husband, Jas. Pillsbury, on the ground of wilful desertion.

Edward Gilson, a wine merchant, has filed his petition in insolvency.

The sentence of J. Walter Walsh, of the Sunday Varieties, for libel, was continued in the County Court this morning until next Monday on motion for new trial.

Markets.

Flour—Sales at $4 75@5,00 ⅌ 196 lbs supr. hlf sks; 196 lbs $4 75@5 00 qr sks $5 25 extra hlf sks; $5 25@$5 50 qr sks $5 50@$5 75.

Wheat—The Market is quiet. The great bulk of the receipts go aboard ships loading for Liverpool, having been bought to arrive; sales at $1 55.

The Atlantic Cable—Gold—Mining Stocks.

The successful laying of the Atlantic Cable and the important European dispatches received by it are the absorbing topics of conversation in business circles to-day.

Latest gold dispatches from New York, are to the 20th inst. when it ruled the same as for three days previously, namely, $150@150⅛.

Sterling exchange was dull and nominal with no demand except for sight. United States bonds were going forward to Europe quite freely.

Mining stocks show but little signs of activity. Crown Point sold at the Board this morning at an advance of $35 00 from last cash sale on the 20th inst. From the morning Board of Saturday, Yellow Jacket advanced $22,50; Savage, $5 00, and Confidence $1 00. On the other hand, Chollar-Potosi declined $11,00; Belcher $5,00; Ophir and Overman, each $1,00.

Arrived—July 28—Brig T. W. Lucas, 9 days from Umslady, lumber. On the 29th br bark Alice Hulsen, 207 days from London, via Falmouth, 169 days. Bark Milan, 10 days from Teekalet, lumber. Mexican brig Basco, 70 days from Libertad, Sugar and Coffee.

Sailed—July 28—Brig Orient, Puget Sound; bark Huntsville, Puget Sound.

QUARTZ MATTERS.—Notwithstanding the great number and value of quartz ledges discovered in eastern Oregon, Idaho, and the regions of Montana drawing supplies through this city, there has never yet been sufficient returns to satisfy the parties who have made investments in some of the most prominent of those ledges, simply in consequence of the bad management which has hitherto existed. Of several leading companies which at one time seemed the most promising, we may refer to the Victor, and the New York and Idaho, of South Boise. The Superintendent of the former is now under arrest, and confined in the absence of bonds to a large amount, if we are correctly informed, and the mill property of the latter is, under an order of the courts of Idaho, advertised to be sold, on the 4th of August, to satisfy a judgement of the creditors. We know practically but little with reference to the transactions of the Victor company, but as regards the New York and Idaho Company, we are pretty thoroughly posted, having for many years been familiar with the Superintendent, Dr. E. B. Farnham, whom we have ever regarded as a gentleman of the most persevering stamp, and unbounded integrity. That the company of which he is the Superintendent has failed to meet their own, and the expectations of the public, is not the fault of Dr. F. He was among the first to take steps for the development of the resources of Alturas county, and that he would have been able to accomplish all that he undertook is, to our view very certain, had he met with proper treatment. Upon representations made to Dr. Farnham by the Company, there are many persons to be found in South Boise who stood by it through all its darkest trials, and furnished money and bread to feed the workmen, until the mill should be ready to crush rock. That the Superintendent done all that a man could do, to further the interests of the company, the creditors at Rocky Bar will testify, hence, that the operations failed is no fault of his, but that they would have been successful had means been provided to carry on the works, is undisputed. The claims against this company are not far from $30,000, and the property is worth probably $25,000 or $70,000. The mill is said to be the best in the upper country, of twenty stamps capacity, with ten stamps and all the appointments ready for operation in an hour's time. Whatever may be said regarding the affairs of other companies which have become embarrassed and incapacitated from doing business, it cannot be urged that the mines are valueless, and we trust that before the present season terminates the facts will be substantiated before the world, and people will learn to regard eastern Oregon and Idaho as the wealthiest mining district on the Pacific coast. Litigation has been a prolific source of trouble to all new mining countries, and we of this region have had our full share. The difficulties in the way of developing the richest mine in the world, that known as the Poorman ledge of Owyhee, have been properly adjusted, and bullion will soon reach us from there in astonishingly large quantities. New projects are being undertaken, and more care is being exercised than was used at the beginning of the developments in those sections, which is an encouraging sign of the times. Wild cat speculations are less numerous, and swindling operations will not in future be so frequent, so that whatever is done may be deemed reliable and effective. Dr. Farnham having had nothing detracted from his good name, in consequence of the failure of his company, comes home to us from New York as Superintendent of another large company, composed of men of wealth, and will continue to operate at South Boise, proving his devotion to the district, and his abilities to develop the valuable ledges under his control. We shall watch with interest the progress now making in the right direction, and feel gratified to record a different state of things at an early day, as we shall without doubt be able to do.

WORK FOR SOMEBODY.—For nearly a year past there has been continually something to produce inconvenience and damage to the public about the brown three story building of P. Raleigh, Esq., at the corner of First and Stark streets, and it is now high time that some measures should be taken to insure a speedy remedy of the last remaining evil. It is astonishing that Mr. Raleigh should so allow the public to be annoyed from month to month, by the trouble and vexation of leaving open the offensive, not to say noxious places about his building. The lewd and lawless denizens of the p——h have been removed, and it is now certainly proper that the sidewalk be repaired. If we are not mistaken the Street Commissioner was instructed by the Council many weeks ago to give his attention to this matter, but as nothing has been done we are at a loss to understand whose business it is. It is an intolerable nuisance, and we shall refer to the subject again.

THE FIDELITER.—An advertisement in another column, announces that the steamer Fideliter, Capt. Erskine, will leave this port for Victoria on Thursday at 4 o'clock P. M. The encouragement that has thus far been given to her owners, and those interested in keeping her in this trade, has not been very extensive, but sufficient inducements are expected, and it is hoped that shippers will find it to their interest to properly appreciate the efforts of the owners by awarding to them, an increasing patronage. When we are without a steamer plying to Victoria, we are very apt to feel the need that exist for one, and now that every facility is offered by the Fideliter that could be asked for, let it not be said that her owners lost money in trying to accommodate us, and were obliged to haul her off. Between the times of her departure let all who can, contribute something by way of shipments to sustain the enterprise.

NEW EMPLOYMENT FOR DREDGERS.—The people of Victoria have a dredger, and the Colonist says it has been suggested that instead of taking the [illegible] to a fresh water stream merely for the purpose of making a raid upon the barnacles and other innocent marine accumulations on her bottom, she might be taken up Fraser river and dredge the stream for gold. It is well known that the bed of the river is full of the precious metal in many places, and the Government might, for aught they know, bring up nuggets as large as the clams that were dredged up at the harbor's mouth two years ago. Victorians, and the people of the Colonies generally, are great for strikes, and who can tell but that dredging, digging for gold in the bed of Fraser river, may not be as thick as flies around a meat shop in a few years?

THE OSWEGO IRON COMPANY.—The works inaugurated at Oswego by the Oregon Iron Company are credited with the greatest satisfaction in all quarters. We clip the following from the British Colonist of Victoria: "Mr. [illegible], of San Jose, [illegible], who has just arrived from Oregon, has presented us with specimens of Oregon Iron ore from Oswego, a town situated on the Willamette river, six miles south of Portland. Oswego is destined to become the center of a great iron producing district. The ore abounds in the locality in great quantity, and a company, with a capital of $500,000, have already erected a building furnace, and will soon be in successful operation."

THE VANCOUVER MINES.—From a gentleman who has just returned from the mines near Vancouver, we learn that the prospects of the district are very encouraging. The machine which is running on the McCormal ledge is kept constantly at work, but the results are privately known. The Rising Star ledge has a shaft to the depth of twenty-nine feet, and rock is now being taken out, a quantity of which is to be sent to San Francisco for test. The Columbia Co. have sunk a shaft some ten feet upon their ledge, and our informant is of the opinion that the rock of this mine is of better quality than any other in the district. All parties engaged are sanguine of success.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.—A team of horses attached to a lumber wagon were frightened on First street yesterday afternoon and dashed frantically away down town. When last seen by our reporter they were "neck and neck," if anything the "off" one an inch or two ahead, skinning the street in the direction of Couch's Addition, with about half of the vehicle behind them. They were soon lost in the dust and passed from sight.

ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMER FORTY-NINE.—We are informed that the steamer FORTY-NINE, Capt. Len. White, met with an accident on the 10th inst., at Little Dalles, where a floating tree got under the hull and fouled the rudder. The steamer was stemming a strong current at the time, and had a line out forward, but taking a sudden sheer, the capstan, to which the line was made fast, was torn out. The damage was but slight, and the steamer was taken to her landing for repairs immediately.

ARRIVAL OF THE FIDELITER.—The steamship Fideliter, Capt. Erskine, arrived from Victoria at noon yesterday, having left that port on Saturday last at 3 o'clock P. M. She crossed the Columbia River bar on the 20th at 6:30 P. M. Arrived at Astoria at 8:15, and sailed for Portland at 9:30, the same evening, reaching the wharf in this city at 11:30 the next day. A very [illegible] voyage was experienced.

FIREMEN'S PARADE.—The time is nearly approaching when the Portland Fire Department will appear on their annual parade. We observe the advance movement for preparations, in a call of Chief Engineer Young, in another column, for a meeting of the Board of Foremen to be held at the house of Vigilance Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1, this evening.

IMPORTS.—The cargo of the steamship Fideliter, which arrived from Victoria yesterday is consigned to the following parties, and consists of articles as specified: H L Pittock, 12 bales paper; Underhill & Co, 401 bars iron; E J Northrup, 199 bars iron and 1 chain cable; M Munson, 26 packages furniture; No Mark, 20 casks oil; Starr & Co, 1 case merchandise.

PASSENGERS.—The following passengers arrived from Victoria by the steamship Fideliter yesterday: Mrs Munroe & child, Mrs Shutts, Dr Haggin, Wm Kohl, A Campbell, W F Crate, E Wilson, Wm Mosher, J Evans, B Nicholas, Wm Lewis, G Marshall, R Gursich, R Mix, J Bullen, Caleb Warner, and nine Chinamen.

QUICK TIME.—We are informed that Gen. Halleck and Staff arrived at Marysville on Saturday last, five days from Portland, overland. This may be considered a pretty quick trip, but it is the time being made at present by the coaches of the Oregon Stage Company.

CHURCH PEWS.—The pews of Trinity church will be let on Friday next, at 2 o'clock P. M. Those desirous of obtaining them are referred to a notice published by order of the vestry this morning.

AUCTION SALE.—The sale of groceries, merchandise, furniture, &c., by auctioneer Kilbourn to-day, will afford the trade opportunities seldom obtained in this market.

THE ORIZABA.—A private dispatch states that the steamer Orizaba, Capt. William Metzger, will sail to-day from San Francisco for Portland.

There is a message at the telegraph office in this city for J. Elliot.

INDIAN TREATIES.—Within the past two days the Senate has ratified treaties with the following tribes of Indians, viz.: The Nez Perces of Idaho Territory; the Shoshones of Ruby Valley, Nev.; the Great and Little Osages in the southern part of Kansas, and the Choctaws and Chickasaws of the Indian Territory west of Arkansas. It is probable that other important Indian treaties will be submitted to the Senate for ratification within a very few days.—Washington Corr. Bulletin.

Notice.—Meeting of the Board of Foremen at the House of Vigilance Hook & Ladder Company No. 1, at 8 o'clock this evening. By order of THOS. G. YOUNG, Chief Engineer.

FROM IDAHO.

We clip the following from the Boise Statesman of July 21st:

LATEST NEWS FROM THE INDIAN WAR.

Mr. John Ward, in from Owyhee yesterday morning, says that the Indians on their retreat, made off in the direction of Stein mountain, or the head waters of the Malheur river, their well known strong hold. The Owyhee volunteers under Colonel Jennings, were following them up and harrassing their rear with a good deal of effect. On arriving in the vicinity of Stein mountain the Volunteer Company from Mormon Basin, under command of Captain Walker, one hundred and ten strong, met the Indians face to face. Between the two companies they got the Indians surrounded, with a fair prospect of giving them a severe punishing. It is to be hoped that under any circumstances the Volunteers will be able to capture the larger portion of the Indians' horses and supplies. All that the Volunteers need, to carry on the war so well begun, is a plenty of provisions, horses and ammunition. If the Government would furnish the volunteers that might be put into the field with the necessary means, they would effectually clean out the Indians between California and Oregon in a three months campaign. Such an expense would be trifling in comparison with the red tape arrangements of some of our Majors. Why can't these things be done?

ARRIVAL OF IMMIGRANTS.

Thirty immigrants with as many wagons arrived on the opposite side of Boise river. Mr. Colt, from Niagara New York, with whom we conversed, says that they left St. Joe on the 28th of April—they had a pleasant trip and no trouble from the Indians. Most of this train is from the Western States, and intend to settle in Oregon. They are mostly Union men and didn't run away from pap Price's army.

RECENTLY DISCOVERED COAL MINE.

Mr. G. L. Howard brought to this office, on Thursday, a specimen of coal taken from the ledge recently discovered on Reynolds' Creek, a few miles from Ruby City, Owyhee. We have not had an opportunity of testing the same, but from appearances should judge there was coal there or thereabouts. Mr. H. visited the works of the company, and says of his observations: "Visited the coal mine on the head waters of Reynolds' Creek, owned by G. Hays, Hill Beachy, M. Folk and Mr. Bixby, the Superintendent of the work. They have a tunnel of 176 feet into the hill, the workmanship of which is a credit to the Superintendent. It is my opinion that these gentlemen have a fair prospect of a valuable bed of coal. There are three distinct veins or strata of coal, one of six, one of four and one of two and one-half inches in thickness. The specimens of coal which I have tried by burning, is not of the first quality, as I believe none is so near the surface, although it burns very well. Mr. Bixby is an experienced coal miner; he says he is confident it will be a successful operation, of great profit to the lucky owners. I hope it may, as it will be of great value to the Owyhee country."

PROSPECTS OF THE UNION PARTY.

Mr. E. C. Sterling, just in from Owyhee, and letters by the same stage, say the Union men of that county are sanguine of success. "Never were circumstances more opportune for the Union party in this county; Kirkpatrick will get two hundred majority."

We received last evening the nominations made in Oneida county, at the People's Convention. M. A. Carter, Esq., for Council, and John H. Stump for Representative, heads the ticket that is sure to win. The ticket will appear in our next.

FROM VICTORIA

We have files of Victoria papers to the 24th. The Telegraph, of the 23d, gives the following account of an atrocious murder perpetrated at Victoria:

The inhabitants round the east end of Pandora street were horrified this morning to learn that a horrible murder had been perpetrated almost at their doors. The discovery was made by Mr. Consul Francis, who was coming down to the fish market about six o'clock, when, on stooping down to lift up a stick to throw at his dog, who was following him, he saw close to him a human arm protruding from the bushes. A second glance showed him a naked body, frightfully bruised and disfigured, lying among the brush. The sight so shocked him, that he was obliged to sit down a moment and recover himself. He then went across the street and called a neighbor, Mr. George Mason, and together they proceeded to view the appaling sight. The body was found perfectly naked, except a sock on one foot, a scotch cap lying carelessly thrown on the corpse; it was still warm and flexible, as if life had not long departed, but was covered with bruises, the head and face being terribly disfigured, and the brain protruding behind one ear. About ten feet from the corpse was a pool of blood, as if the body had been laid down there first and then carried to the spot where it was found. From the appearance of the body it seemed to have been dragged some distance, the breast and legs being much scratched as if by thorns or scrub, and the eyes protruding as if caused by stricture round the neck. Mr. Francis at once proceeded to the police office where he made his statement and officer McCarthy was despatched to the spot, and the body removed to the dead house, where it now lies. The police have arrested a half-breed on suspicion of the murder, and he has been remanded till the conclusion of the evidence.

TELEGRAPH WIRE.

The ship Mohawk was to-day discharging part of her cargo of telegraph wire into the bark Onward at the H. B. Co.'s wharf. The latter vessel will take in some thirty tons of the wire, which is galvanized, and in perfect condition, and will probably sail for Petropaulski on Thursday next.

CONFEDERATION.

Mr. DeCosmos gave notice of a motion to-day in the House of an address to the colonies east of the Rocky Mountains in favor of Confederation, so soon as the maritime provinces had entered into the compact.

FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

We clip the following from the Bulletin of the 22d:

The news from Bogota is important, and indicates a general revolution throughout the Republic. An armed mob had paraded the streets of Bogota, shouting "Down with the Congress!" "Death to Murrillo!" "Long live Mosquera the President for the next ten years!" The mob afterwards entered the Senate Chamber and by threats forced the Congress to sanction the veto of the President in reference to certain Acts passed by that body.

On Thursday morning, July 5th, whilst Mr. Woodbury paymaster of the Panama railroad, was going in a hand-car from Paraiso to Empire Station, in company with Mr. Chipman, trackmaster, an attempt was made by some fiend to throw the car off the track, by placing a heavy piece of iron between the joints of the rails, the object evidently being to rob the money-box which Mr. Woodbury always carries with him. Luckily the car was going slowly at the time it struck the obstruction and was not capsized, but the shock was so great that it threw out the Chinaman working the crank, and the car passed over his body, breaking his back, and placing him beyond the hope of recovery.

The United States sloop-of-war Mohongo, 10, arrived at Panama on the morning of the 2d instant from Guyaquil, which port she left on the 27th June.

The Fourth of July was observed in creditable style in Panama. Tracy Robinson, American Consul at Aspinwall, delivered the oration.

In Costa Rica the scarlet fever still rages, but with less severity than previously.

The States of Central America, with the exception of Bogota, are all tranquil.

EXCITING TIMES.—Dayton, Ohio, has been considerably excited over the removal by the trustees of an offensive inscription on a tombstone. The monument in question was that of J. F. Bollmeyer, the editor of the Empire, a Copperhead paper, who was killed in a fight about four years since. The inscription was as follows: "He fell by the hands of an assassin, a martyr to the cause of the liberty of speech and of the press." On learning that such an inscription was to be placed on the monument, the Trustees forbade its being admitted into the grounds. Under the rules they had a right to do this; but nevertheless, the monument was put up without their knowledge. On discovering it they had it taken down and removed. The secessionists had an indignation meeting, and Vallandigham made the speech of the occasion.

A lady, modestly attired, was on her way to New York, on board one of the Hudson River night boats. She sat quietly reading in the ladies' cabin, when a flashily dressed dame, mistaking her for a servant, rather rudely accosted her with—"Do you know that this cabin is for ladies?" "Certainly I do," "and have been wondering for some time why you are here."

WHERE THE SHOE PINCHES.—Certain Dentists who have tooth [illegible] to sell, and who find that the Sozodont is taking the place of every other dentifrice in the land, shake their heads knowingly and hint that it is deleterious. If they mean deleterious to their interests, no doubt they are right. Were it destructive to the teeth, these cavaliers would have nothing to say against it, as still efforts would bring grist to their mill; the motives are too transparent not to be seen by every intelligent person.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities; CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

In Absence.

BY PHOEBE CAREY.

Watch her kindly, stars—
From the sweet protecting skies
Follow her with tender eyes;
Look so lovingly that she
Can not choose but think of me;
Watch her kindly, stars!

Soothe her sweetly, night—
On her eyes, o'erwearied, press
The tired lids with light caress;
Let that shadowy hand of thine
Ever in her dreams seem mine;
Soothe her sweetly, night!

Wake her gently, morn—
Let the notes of early birds
Seem like love's melodious words;
Every pleasant sound, my dear,
When she stirs from sleep, should hear;
Wake her gently, morn!

Kiss her softly, winds—,
Softly, that she may not miss
Any sweet, accustomed bliss;
On her lips, her eyes, her face,
Till I come to take your place,
Kiss and kiss her, winds!

The Indiana Campaign.

EXTRACT FROM THE SPEECH OF GOV. MORTON.

The campaign in Indiana opened with an enthusiastic mass meeting at Indianapolis, Tuesday night, June 20th—the great feature of which was a speech by Governor Morton. We clip the following:

The leaders who are now managing the Democratic party in this State are the men who, at the regular session of the Legislature in 1861, declared that if an army went from Indiana to assist in putting down the then approaching rebellion it must first pass over their dead bodies. They are the men who, in the Democratic Convention on the 8th of January, 1862, gave aid and comfort to the rebellion, by resolving that the South had been provoked and driven into the contest by the unconstitutional and wicked aggressions of the people of the North. They are the men who, in speeches and resolutions, proclaimed that "Southern defeats gave them no joy and Northern disasters no sorrow." They are the men who exerted their influence to prevent their Democratic friends from going into the army, and who, by their incessant, venomous slanders against the Government, checked the spirit of volunteering and made drafting a necessity. And when the draft had thus been forced upon the country, their wretched subordinates, inspired by their devilish teachings, endeavored, in many places, by force of arms and the murder of enrolling officers, to prevent its execution. They are the men who corresponded with the rebel leaders in the South, giving them full information of our condition, and assuring them that a revolution in public opinion was at hand and that they had but to persevere a few months longer and the National Government would fall to pieces of its own weight. They are the men who, in the Legislature of 1863, attempted to overturn the State Government and establish a legislative revolution by seizing the military power of the State, and transferring it into the hands of four State officers, three of whom were members of the treasonable society known as the "Sons of Liberty." They are the men who, having failed to overturn the State Government by seizing the military power, determined to defeat its operations and bring about anarchy, by locking up the public treasure, and thus withholding the money necessary to carry on the Government. They are the men who, for the purpose of private speculation and to discredit the State before the world, conspired to prevent the payment of the interest on the public debt by withholding, through a fraudulent lawsuit, the money received from taxes paid for that very purpose. This lawsuit was fraudulently smuggled through the Circuit Court and lodged in the Supreme Court before the minutes of the case had been read and signed by the Circuit Judge, or he had been made acquainted with its character, and was hastily decided by the Supreme Court against the credit of the State. They are the men who introduced and organized in this State that dangerous and wide-spread conspiracy known as the "Knights of the Golden Circle," and afterwards as the "Sons of Liberty," which had for its purpose the overthrow of the State and National Governments. Not all of them, it is true, belonged formerly to this infamous order, but such as stood on the outside had knowledge of its existence, purpose and plans, and carefully concealed their knowledge and stood ready to accept its work.

To accomplish the hellish work of this conspiracy, military officers were appointed; military organizations created, arms and ammunition purchased in immense quantities and smuggled into the State, correspondence opened with the rebel commanders, and military combinations agreed upon, rebel officers and agents introduced into the Capital and concealed in hotels and boarding houses, and it was deliberately planned and agreed that upon a day fixed they would suddenly uprise and murder the Executive, seize the arsenal and its arms, ammunition, and releasing 9,000 rebel prisoners in Camp Morton, put arms in their hands, and with their combined forces effect a military and bloody revolution in the State. This dreadful scheme necessarily involved murder, conflagration, robbery and the commission of every crime which makes black the chronicles of civil war, and yet its authors and abettors, with the proofs of their guilt piled mountain high, are again struggling for power, and asking the people to put into their guilty hands the government and prosperity of the State. Some of these men, who are high in favor and authority in their party, and are largely intrusted with its management, have heretofore occupied offices of great trust and responsibility, in which they proved to be recreant and corrupt. They are the men who, in the Legislature of Indiana, bitterly opposed and denounced every effort to confer the right of suffrage upon soldiers in the field who could not come home to vote. They are the men who wrote letters to soldiers in the army, urging them to desert, and assuring them of support and protection if they did. They are the men who labored with devilish zeal to destroy the ability of the Government to carry on war by depreciating its financial credit. They assured the people that "greenbacks" would die on their hands, and warned them solemnly against Government bonds, as a wicked device to rob them of their money. They are the men who refused to contribute to the Sanitary Commission for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers, upon the lying and hypocritical pretense that the contributions were consumed by the officers of the army. They are the men who excused themselves from contributing for the relief of soldiers' families at home by the infamous slander that they were living better than they had ever done, and by foul imputations on the chastity of soldiers' wives. They are the men who declared in speeches, resolutions and by their votes in Congress, that not another man nor dollar should be voted to carry on a cruel war against their Southern brethren. They are the men who in the midst of the last great campaign of 1864, at the time when Sherman was fighting his way, step by step, from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and Grant was forcing Lee back into the defenses of Richmond in desperate and bloody battles from day to day; when the fate of the nation hung in the balance, and the world watched with breathless interest the gigantic struggle which was to settle the question of republican government, assembled in Convention in Chicago and resolved that the war was a failure; that our cause was unjust, and that we ought to lay down our arms and sue for peace. It was throwing a mountain in the Confederate scale to make the Union kick the beam. It was a bold and desperate interference in behalf of the rebellion at the very crisis of the fight. It was an insult to the loyal arms of the nation, so vast, malignant and deadly that no language can convey an adequate idea of its wickedness; and in future times the historian will record the fact with astonishment that the Government, at the most critical moment of its life, when a few hours, or a few days at furthest, must determine whether it should live or die, could permit a large body of its enemies to meet upon its soil in peace and security and publish a flagrant manifesto in behalf of the rebellion.

Now I do not mean to say that all the Democratic leaders have done all these things, but what I do say is this, that the men who have done these things are combined together and constitute the real leaders of the Democratic party. The few moderate men of the party have been stripped of all power and influence, and are carried along with it merely for numbers and policy, while the living and aggressive element which controls it are "Sons of Liberty" and those who acted in sympathy and concert with them.

They are the men who have perverted the word Democracy from its once honorable meaning, to be a shield and cover for rebellion, and for every crime that attaches to a causeless and atrocious civil war.

HE IS SAFE.—Considerable anxiety is felt among Democrats for the safety of General McClellan, as war is raging in Europe and he is traveling in that country. Never fear, the "roads" will always be "too wet" to allow him to get within two hundred miles of a battle field on that or any other continent.—Exchange.

Views of the Reconstructed Rebels.

SLAVERY CO-EXISTENT WITH CIVILIZATION.

[From the Mobile (Ala.) Tribune.]

The Southern cause is lost—so irretrievably that there remains no Southern man insane enough to hope to see it resuscitated. We submit in good faith to the new order of things, surrendering to the power of the sword those dogmas to which we clung in former days. The conquerors have won that for which they fought—the power to construe the Constitution of the fathers in any way that suits them—nay more, to give it up to the itching hands of their statesmen (so-called) to be hammered and tinkered on and amended till nothing of the old instrument be left but the name. The celebrated frigate Constitution is a good illustration of what the instrument promises to become. The present vessel contains only a small portion of the keel of the old one. But in her amended form she is a decided improvement, and in that respect the comparison no longer holds good. We are no longer interested in that instrument—it is dead—past the help of galvanism. We are conquered provinces simply, and the sooner we acknowledge the fact and act in accordance with it the better for us. The memories of the past, the tracks of great events in the sands of time, are the common property of mankind, which the conquerors can no more wrest from us than they can the air we breathe. When we speak of these things in the spirit of the historian, and not of the partisan, we opine that the most bitter among the conquering party will not accuse us of a disposition to break the oath we have taken to sustain the new order of things.

There has come to our hands a lecture entitled "The Great Lesson of the War," delivered by one Clinton Lloyd, Clerk of the House of Representatives, before the Union League of Washington (D. C.) We do not pretend to discuss the main object of this lesson, for in that the lecturer places himself above discussion by making assertions which nothing short of divine inspiration can authorize—that the word "negro" was the "open sesame" that controlled all the great events of the war—that victory or defeat attended the Federal arms in accordance with the respect or neglect which this word received in the Government councils. But in his rotary motion about this point the lecturer throws off more tangible matter, and it is of this that we propose to make a partial analysis.

He discusses two peculiarities attending the late "rebellion" "that makes it sui generis."

First—"Its authors have never been agreed among themselves as to the causes which produced it, and may never give to the world any statement of the grievances which induced them to attempt the overthrow of a Government which was as much their creation as ours."

Second—"The other peculiarity of the American rebellion is to be found in the fact that it is the first in human history against established government directly and professedly in favor of human slavery."

Now, it seems to us that the only inference that can justly be drawn from the latter assertion is a refutation of the first. The Southern people, "revolting directly and professedly in favor of human slavery," were very well agreed among themselves "as to the cause which produced" the rebellion. And so Lloyd goes in a circle, reminding one of a dog chained to a post. The Southern States seceded for the protection of slavery, a fact which they have never denied. In doing so they made no "statement of grievances" to the world, any more than Prussia makes to-day for quarrelling with Austria—any more than their rival States at the North made when they sent their hordes to invade the South. The old monarchies of Europe, when they saw the tendency of the French revolutionists, took every precaution to save their social system from their baneful influence. Those old monarchies had some very objectionable features, but they were angels compared to revolutionary France. In the same way the South, in 1861, took the precaution of seceding to protect her social system from Northern revolutionists—men who prove by their conduct to-day that the destruction of slavery was only the first piece in their programme. Let it be granted, then, that the South seceded for the protection of slavery. What was the nature of this slavery, and what grounds had the South for supposing that it would be unconstitutionally interfered with?

Slavery is co-existent with civilization. There can be none of the latter without the former; and when we say this we mean realities and not names. The few only in all communities are enlightened; and they could not be so, were it not that the many are made, through fear of the scourge of starvation, to contribute to the leisure necessary to the attaining of such distinction. In England, with slaves delving in mines, toiling at looms, and waiting behind chairs, there came forth Shakspeares, Bacons, Newtons—true exponents of civilization. In the South, with slaves to fill the lower walks of life, there appeared Washingtons, Jeffersons, Poes. In Boston, where practical slavery is as yet only partially developed there have arisen very creditable plagiarists in Prescott, Longfellow, Holmes. In other parts of the North, where there are no whipping posts and but little starvation, there is almost a stagnation of intellect—no higher aim than to acquire mercantile and mechanical skill—and read Harper's Weekly.

This Southern slavery, then, differs from that which has long obtained in England and all other highly civilized countries only in this—that it was recognized by statute law, while that in England exists in accordance with the common law, both equally binding. We might show that our form of slavery was milder, but that is not to the point. This is the institution, then, that we saw endangered. How? Here would be a good place for the history of the Abolition party. But we shall deal with it as the full grown monster. In 1861, the principles of this party had been fully enunciated by their majority in the lower house, by their orators in and out of Congress, by their party platforms, by the raid of John Brown. Said their orators: "The Constitution is a league with hell," etc. Said their party platform, "Eradicate from the Territories those twin relics of barbarism, slavery and polygamy." Said one of their great apostles,, "There is an irrepressible conflict between slavery and freedom." In 1861, a party shouting such battle cries, elected their candidates and got possession of the Government; from that moment the latter perverted from its original intentions, ceased to be that of "our common creation." And here we have come back to our lecturer's assertion, and shown its fallacy.

The German Question in a Small Compass.

Two years ago Austria and Prussia entered into a thieving conspiracy to steal the Duchies of Schleswig and Holstein from Denmark. Prussia, as all her acts have since shown, wanted them for herself. They occupy an important position on the northern coast, and the possession of them would make Prussia a maritime power, which would assure her, what is the ambition of her present King and his more ambitious Minister, Bismarck, the supremacy in Germany. Austria entered into the conspiracy with the hope of, after detaching the Duchies from Denmark, annexing them as independent German States to the Germanic Confederation. This would have added much to the popularity of Austria with the German States. The war was made upon Denmark, and England shamefully stood by and saw the jewels stolen from the crown of the father of her future monarch's wife. Having stolen the treasure, a difficulty arose immediately about the division of the spoils. Prussia claimed the Duchies for herself, offering to indemnify Austria for her war expenses. Austria opposed this, and desired to submit the question of the Duchies to the decision of the Federal Diet. The secondary States support Austria, and Prussia, with her determination to become a maritime power, and with the dreams of a future grand German Empire, of which she shall be the head, arms and determines to enforce her claims. Austria's misfortune is Italy's opportunity, and Italy arms and prepares to attack her enemy in the rear, while Prussia does it in front. The secondary States are now undecided what to do, and Austria stands purely on the defensive. She professes to want nothing but peace and quiet, and is preparing with all her might to repel any attack which may be made upon her. She can raise an army of 800,000 men, one of the finest and most thoroughly drilled of any in the world. 400,000 men have already gone to the frontier of Saxony, and 200,000 men are stationed in Italy, where Austria has no doubt about the result of the campaign, if Italy is unaided by another power. Italy can raise 350,000 troops, but Austria, with her 200,000 veterans, occupying the fortresses of the Quadrilateral, and standing entirely on the defensive, reckons upon being able to prevent any advance of the Italian army.—Vienna Letter to the Bulletin.

LETTER FROM CONGRESSMAN BIDWELL.—A gentleman of San Francisco lately received a letter from John Bidwell, M. C., of which the following is an extract:

I have not time to write anything political, except to say that Congress will take no step backward. I feel proud to see that the people everywhere give us hope—they, too, stand firmly for the right. In fact, it seems to me, the people are more radical, if possible, than Congress is. We cannot afford to throw away the freedom earned by four years of horrid war and thousands of millions of treasure merely to please the Copperheads, the vanquished but never repentant rebels and Andrew Johnson.

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. TO THE UNFORTUNATE,

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid [illegible] thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, [illegible] that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
